BIO

Graduate from the Instituto del Cine Madrid, eager for continuous learning and personal development, I have had extensive acting training in a number of other institutions in Spain, Italy and Australia.

I currently live in Madrid, participating in projects such as the feature film 'In Albis', the series 'Noche de Chicas', 'Madres, Amor y Vida' and the play 'El mal bello de Pandora'.

I have acted in theater productions in Spain and Italy, with leading roles such as 'Don Quixote', as well as in television series such as 'Amar en tiempo revueltos', 'Velvet' or 'La que se Avecina' and starring in the feature films 'Hasta el fin del día' and 'Autoréplica', both selected at the Gijón International Film Festival (Spain).

My international experience begins in 2008 in Catania (Italy) where I presented and co-starred in an opera and a play, also finishing my university degree in economics and tourism business management. In 2011 I decided to move to Los Angeles (United States), where I starred in the short film 'Seminarista', receiving several nominations (Great Lakes Film International, Pennsylvania and Palm Springs Film Festival, California). In 2016 I moved to Sydney (Australia), where I participated in TV series like 'Home & Away' and 'Reckoning', several movies and commercials. In addition, to complete my international experience and improve several languages I have lived in Lisbon (Portugal), I am fluent in four languages.
